

Considering Formation Of Water District

Friday evening, Jan. 22, a public meeting took place in Sidney School to discuss the water situation. Hon. N. W. Whittaker, member for Saanich; Major McDonald, of the Public Utilities, and Mr. Davis, Water Rights Comptroller, were present. Bert Sansbury was chairman.

Minutes of a previous meeting of citizens held in the office of Mitchell & Anderson Lumber Co. were read for the information of those present and questions were then asked the three gentlemen above named.

Major McDonald dealt at length with the set-up of water districts and pointed out that there are 30 or more such now functioning in the province — all successfully. It was also made clear that these water districts received no financial assistance from the Provincial Government, but were successfully managed by local people in each case. It was pointed out that the Sidney Water & Power Co. had been functioning about 30 years, had no sinking fund, no reserve to undertake extensive repairs, was not in a position to borrow further and in arrears on interest payments on $17,000 worth of debentures.

Hon. N. W. Whittaker, who has been in close touch with the local situation for some time, said he would continue to help in any way possible to find a solution to the difficulty. He had talked the matter over with the Premier, Public Utilities Commissioner and Provincial Water Rights Comptroller. After consideration he had arrived at the conclusion that the only solution was for the people of the community to form a water improvement district of their own.

Mr. Davis pointed out that it would be necessary to present a petition to the Lt. Governor-in-Council to form a water improvement district and that while no percentage is now mentioned in the revised Water Act it was best to have at least 51 percent of land owners sign.

A number of questions were asked concerning the steps necessary to take if a water improvement district is to be formed and a great deal of information was given by Major McDonald. For instance if a local water district is formed the rates for consumers must not be excessive. If the rates approved are not sufficient to carry cost of operation and other overhead a tax can be levied on land to make up the difference. The ideal set-up, of course, is to be able to carry on without a tax on the land. In the event of a water district being formed the land owners would then select three trustees, one for three years, one for two years and one for one year. With this method of selecting trustees there would always be two members on the board familiar with the business at hand and each new trustee elected would serve three years.

Considerable discussion then ensued as to whether a new system should be installed or to try and salvage something of the present system. Finally it was unanimously decided to appoint a committee to study the matter thoroughly from all angles, to meet the directors of the Sidney Water & Power Co. to ascertain the price they considered fair for the system and to learn from the debenture holders what they were willing to do.

The committee selected for this important undertaking is made up of the following members: F. J. Baker, chairman; George Gray, Everett Goddard, Raye Page-Wilson and G. A. Cochran.

When the committee secures the information desired another public meeting will be called.

Miss "Pat" Hutchison Honored At Shower

ROYAL OAK, Jan. 27.—Wives and members of the Dominion Observatory staff entertained at a linen shower in honor of Miss Pat Hutchison, a popular bride-to-be, at the home of Mrs. C. S. Beads, Quadra Street, Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Daffodils were arranged in the room and on the tea table. Mrs. Beads was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Baneroff, and Mrs. T. T. Hutchison poured tea.

The guests included Mesdames J. A. Pearce, R. L. Petrie, Andrew McKellar, K. O. Wright, Walker, Miss Betty Walker, Messrs E. C. Chatters and J. W. Dobbie.

Plans for the Centennial people to return next Easter for a sacred cantata.

"RAYE'S" WAS SAVED BY FINE BRIGADE WORK

Prompt response by the North Saanich Volunteer Fire Brigade undoubtedly saved Raye's eating establishment Monday morning about 11 o'clock.

Frank L. Godfrey, proprietor of the Avenue Cafe and Taxi Service, next door, was about to enter his car when he discerned a burning odor and seeking to ascertain the cause perceived smoke pouring from the eaves of Raye's Tavern and immediately turned in an alarm. The fire brigade boys were on the scene in quick order and a stream of water from the fire truck booster tank subdued the flames that had eaten a hole through the wall and roof on the northeast corner of the building. This opening faced a prevailing wind and the premises were soon filled with dense smoke, so thick was the same in the attic that firemen had to descend from the trap door in the dining room after endeavoring to remain aloft. To avoid water damage the brigade used only the small hose from the booster tank, while the tank itself was kept filled by a larger hose from a hydrant.

It was later determined by fire underwriter adjusters that the fire was caused by faulty wiring. We understand that the damage was not extensive. Mr. Raye-Wilson is certainly pleased with the work of the fire brigade and the thoughtfulness displayed in applying the water, practically no damage to the interior being done by flooding.

The efficiency of the fire brigade, in charge of Chief Arthur Gardner, was commented on by many onlookers. The chief personally crawled through the aperture in the roof to make certain that the last spark was snuffed out.

REST HAVEN IS AGAIN IN GOOD ORDER

Dr. W. H. Roberts of Rest Haven Hospital and Sanitarium has issued the following statement:

During the recent heavy freeze the Rest Haven Sanitarium was seriously inconvenienced as was the rest of the community. Unfortunately both our mains (from Sidney Water Co. and our own well) were uncovered by erosion of the sea and were frozen. Through the courtesy and assistance of Fire Chief Arthur Gardner and the North Saanich Volunteer Fire Brigade we were able to by-pass with fire hose, until necessary repairs were accomplished. As soon as weather permits we plan to box our mains under the bridge so this will not happen again.

For several nights we had no steam in the main building. Since we dispensed with automatic stoker and resorted to stationary grates our new boiler has served very acceptably. It is quite likely that we will install a second boiler so that in case of emergency or necessary repair work we will not be without heat. We have appreciated very much the willingness with which our patients have reacted to personal discomfort.

This may correct any impression that may have gotten abroad that our problems in regard to water and heating plant were not remediable.

SIDNEY AND DISTRICT

The matinee at the Rex Theatre in Sidney has been cancelled for the time being owing to weather conditions.

Butter consumption has been temporarily reduced and accordingly changes have been made in the dates on which (brown) spare "C" coupons of the current ration book may be used. Each individual's allowance will be reduced by 2-3 ounces per week, during the temporary period from Feb. 28 to March 14. Clip out the advertisement in this issue for reference.

Sunrise and sunset time as given out by the authorities for dim-out purposes will be published in the Review as received.

D. E. Breckenridge, principal of the North Saanich Consolidated Schools, announces that school is now open as usual and that all children should return to school who can possibly do so.

Readers are reminded that after February 1 we are in the dim-out area and to read Dim-out Regulations in this issue very carefully. Better cut them out and post up in a handy place for reference.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE DUTIES EXPLAINED

The following are quotations from the pamphlet on "Public Health Nursing And The Community" which may help to explain some of the duties of the Public Health Nurse:

"The contributions of the Public Health Nurse to the community are made in various ways. She begins her work with the supervision of the mother-to-be working in close co-operation with the attending physician supplementing his teachings. Organizing child health conferences, a centre where mothers of children from one to six years may come with their children for instruction and advice. During infancy and the pre-school period prevention against disease is also emphasized. The advantages of encouraging immunization early in life are many. Until the child is six years of age he is essentially a member of the home. Homes are the basis of the community. However, at the age of six he enters school and becomes a member of the community in his own right. The staff and child within the school form a part of the community, here the Public Health Nurse extends her supervision to include the schools. Visiting at regular intervals, checking on absences through illness and encouraging immunization where it has been neglected at the pre-school period, and assumes her role as advisor on health by providing the teachers with information or material on specific subjects of disease prevention and thereby lend assistance through the teachers to the children. Classroom teaching is not part of the Public Health Nurse's work as her field is in the homes of the community."

"Tuberculosis and communicable disease control are one phase of public health that cannot be confined to any age group. Early reporting and prompt medical attention in each case is very important. Through frequent visits to the home to visit all members of the family the Public Health Nurse can teach the importance of medical care and report suspicious cases and as the nurse's duties are primarily educational and preventative, she must not be called out to prescribe treatment or diagnose as this is a matter for the family physician."

"In the local community the Public Health Nurse works under the guidance of the local medical health officer and local school medical inspector to whom she is directly responsible for many phases of the work. Because of the importance of maintaining uniform standards and records within the bounds of accepted procedure, the Public Health Nurse of necessity looks to the Provincial Board of Health for guidance and advice on the technical phases of her program. This supervision by the Provincial Board of Health is made possible through the services of the Director of Public Health Nursing. Forms which parents are asked to fill in or reports made on themselves, visited are uniform throughout the province for public health work. This information is confidential and kept for the nurses' and doctors' use only. But the forms may be sent to another district if a family moves away, if required by the public health service there, and although full details are asked for the necessary records parents are not compelled to fill out the forms completely if they so desire to keep certain affairs to themselves. The community as a whole should feel very fortunate in obtaining this preventative and advisory service which is a form of health insurance and do all in their power to co-operate with the Public Health Nurse whose day is very full with calls to go here and there giving advice on prevention of disease."

"In a word, the aim of any public health worker is community health. All the instruction and advice, whether it be before the child is born or when the child is an infant, the pre-school or school period; whether it be on communicable disease control; nutrition; sanitation or any other subject, the ultimate aim is a healthy community."

N.S. Volunteer Fire Brigade Notes

By D. GORNALL

The weekly meeting of the North Saanich Volunteer Fire Brigade was held in the fire hall Tuesday night with the following present: Chief A. Gardner, T. Morgan, B. Shade, A. Neeves, R. Jones, W. Gardner, George Gray, N. Copeland and D. Gornall.

Wood was cut for the heater in the hall and things rearranged to make way for our new truck. The chassis has been ready for some months and, as the iron plates for the booster tank have just arrived, the chief says it won't be long before assembly is complete.

Discussion took place on the method of fighting fires in the different parts of our district. The members were reminded that they, as firemen, have authority at a fire and it is hoped that the public will co-operate by remaining spectators and not hinder the firemen in their duties, as it is very difficult to be efficient with "would-be helpers."

The chief requests that anyone interested in fire fighting report for training on Tuesday evenings at the fire hall.

GALIANO ISLAND

Mrs. E. Wilson and her small daughter Lyn have arrived to spend a week with Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bruce.

Mrs. R. C. Stevens left on Tuesday of last week to attend the Russian Ballet.

Mr. Cayzer has returned to the island after spending the past month at The Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital, Ganges.

WATER

An improvement in the situation has developed since Monday, it being reported that enough water is available to feed the Sidney area until past midnight each day when the water is then turned off to fill the tanks on McTavish Road in order to supply water to customers in that part of the community. The pressure is not high but they hope to improve same shortly.

The present shortage of water is due to lack of water, not the capacity of the pumps, according to reports from the Sidney Water & Power Co. The wells have not been cleaned out for three years, we are informed, and it is stated that there are several feet of sand in same. The local water company is without a sand pump at present.

In the meantime a committee is looking into the proposition of establishing a local water improvement district.

DIM-OUT REGULATIONS

We wish to draw the attention of the public to the Dim-out Regulations published in this issue of the Review. Special attention is drawn to Sections 34, 35 and 37, regarding skyward lights.

As we go to press we are informed that the Dim-out is to be extended to Sidney and surrounding community except for the masking of automobile headlights, which will remain as at present. Commencing on February 1 and each and every day thereafter, until further notice, certain new areas of British Columbia will come under dim-out regulations.

In these areas (described in the advertisement) every source of light, either interior or exterior, that would reflect skyward or seaward (see areas affected), or might direct rays out of doors above the horizontal plane, must be shielded.

As these regulations affect all homes, places of business, industries, churches, institutions, etc., it is essential that everyone acquaint himself or herself with the daily times of sunrise and sunset. These times vary daily in every community, and will be furnished monthly in advance to all daily and weekly newspapers, A.R.P. committees and police authorities. The Review will publish a week's time for the benefit of subscribers, who may clip same and put up in a handy place.

In the home it will be necessary to pull the blinds down in every room where lights are used. Skylights must not be permitted to throw any light skyward.

Show windows will probably have to have lighting alterations or, perhaps, colored, low-attage lights, directed towards the back of the window, will have to be used.

The regulations provide that all indoor lighting shall be reduced or controlled so that it does not contribute more than one foot-candle of illumination upon any outdoor area. This one foot-candle illumination applies to all sidewalk areas in front of show windows, as well as to all other outdoor areas. The one foot-candle is the unit of measurement associated with every-day use of light. A working idea of this unit can be obtained by holding a standard lighted candle one foot distant from a newspaper. The result will be approximately one foot-candle of illumination.

Covered under the new regulations are all outdoor signs lighted by incandescent lamps or gaseous tubes; also spotlights and floodlights.

The new regulations do not cancel existing special lighting permits, but permit holders must conform to the new dim-out rules.

Householders would be well advised to paint a white strip on each of their outdoor steps to aid the use of them after dark. Gates outlined in white will also be found very effective.

While no regulations have been issued to cover light control of vehicular traffic in dim-out area "C" (which we are in), the somewhat reduced street lighting and dimming out of house windows will necessitate careful driving at night.

Infractions of the regulations will bring stiff penalties,

Copper Wire Goes to War

Vast quantities of copper wire are needed for the war effort of the United Nations. The wire goes into aeroplanes, ships, tanks, and innumerable other things. Copper is also required for many other purposes than wire. There is not enough copper to go around, so the Government has severely restricted the use of wire in the telephone business. We must therefore forego adding materials to our lines and equipment until after the war. This is the reason why many people who want telephone service are now unable to get it.

THE BOOMERANG RETURNS

Sir:—Cruelty, and other vices, may be likened to an Australian boomerang, which, when thrown out comes back to the thrower.

And it comes back as a boomerang, not as a bunch of bananas or a bottle of wine. So with cruelty. — We put it out (or allow others to do so) and it returns to us — as cruelty. Exactly what we give out we must take again. The experiments practiced on defenceless, conscious creatures in the cause of medical science have long disgusted humane-minded people all over the world. Only a small percentage of these animals receive an anesthetic, and in some cases the suffering is severe, and may extend over a period of many days. There are other cruelties to animals besides vivisection — trapping, sealing, hunting, horseracing, etc., and a significant phase of this war is — that some of the cruelties being done to human beings today are (although milder) somewhat similar to those which experimental animals have endured for many years, and others of these cruelties are quite well known to

HOLD HIGH THE TORCH OF FREEDOM

WAR-TIME DUTIES OF CITIZENSHIP

Be loyal, obey the laws, pay ordinary taxes, provide for self and family, save something for future independence—these are the relatively simple duties of citizenship in peace-time.

But in war-time things are different. Even though he may not have the privilege of joining the armed forces, the citizen has arduous duties, which call on his greatest resources of character, industry and financial means. Added to the normal requirements are the obligations of extraordinary taxes, Victory Bonds and war charities.

So great are the financial duties imposed by war that the citizen must resort to unusual, drastic, systematic, determined saving to meet them.

The Bank of Montreal offers you the service of a Special Savings Account, in which you can deposit every pay-day, or other income date, the right proportionate amount to cover your war obligations when due.

WEDDING AT TABERNACLE LAST FRIDAY

ROYAL OAK, Jan. 27. — A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Alliance Tabernacle, Yates Street, at 7:30 Friday evening of last week when Rev. F. U. Landis united in marriage Edna Euphemia, youngest daughter of Mr. Thomas Duke, Langbank, Sask., and the late Mrs. Duke, to Pte. Oliver James Heighington, son of Mrs. S. G. Heighington, Edmonton, Alberta, and the late Mr. Heighington.

Tall baskets of white chrysanthemums decorated the Tabernacle and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows. Mrs. F. U. Landis played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. W. Hamilton, who sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Ivan Duke, wore a lovely white chiffon gown featuring a lace yoke and bishop sleeves with lace cuffs. The bodice was fastened down the back with a row of tiny self-covered buttons. Her full-length silk embroidered veil was held in place with a wreath of white silk roses, and she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

Miss Katherine Stevenson as bridesmaid wore a lovely blush pink chiffon gown with softly shirred waistline, quilted yoke and long bishop sleeves. In her hair she wore a white carnation, from which fell matching ribbons and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Pte. Norman Venard was best man, and the ushers were Pte. William Forester and Pte. Chuck Joss.

Following the ceremony a reception for intimate friends and relatives was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Heron Stevenson, West Saanich Road.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Heighington, Vancouver, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Stevenson, who wore a copper-rust triple corded sheer dress trimmed with novelty gold buttons and a corsage bouquet of bronze-toned chrysanthemums.

A buffet supper was served from the refreshment table, which was covered with a cutwork, hand-crocheted lace cloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and arranged with white chrysanthemums.

themums and tall pink tapers in crystal holders.

The young couple will reside at 324 Menzies Street.

OVER 75 YEARS AGO

From the Diary of BERYL WEATHERELL

Mr. Macfie writes:—

In September, 1859, when I first set foot in Victoria, the process of depopulation was still going on, though it soon after reached its lowest point. The tens of thousands that had pressed into the city in '58 were diminished to not more than 1,500, embracing "the waifs and strays" of every natinality, not excepting a good many whose antecedents were not above suspicion. Apart from the Government buildings, two hotels and one shop, all the dwellings and houses of business were at that time built of wood. There was little business doing and no great prospect ahead.

Dated at Ganges, B.C., this 20th day of January, 1943.

BUTTER CONSUMPTION TEMPORARILY REDUCED

It has become necessary to reduce the current rate of consumption of butter, and accordingly changes have been made in the dates on which (brown) spare "C" coupons of the current ration book may be used.

Spare "C" coupons 10 and 11 may not be used for the purchase of butter. Coupons 1 to 4 inclusive, have already expired.

Expiry dates for spare "C" coupons 5 to 8, inclusive, have been extended to aid consumers in stretching out the butter allowance over the period from now until February 28th.

Each coupon will continue to be good for the purchase of one-half pound of butter and will be good only on the dates specified below:

HERE IS THE NEW SCHEDULE

Coupon Number	Good for purchase beginning on:	Not good for purchase after:
5 and 6	January 18th	February 28th
7 and 8	February 1st	February 28th
9	March 1st	March 14th

The result of this is to reduce each individual's allowance by 2 2-3 ounces per week during the temporary period.

CONSUMERS WILL FIND IT ADVISABLE TO RATION THEMSELVES SO THAT THEY MAY BE ABLE TO STRETCH THE NEW BUTTER ALLOWANCE OVER THE NEXT SIX WEEKS
